To minimise the possibility of failure due to contamination and oil starvation there are a number of actions that can be taken.

- 1 Ensure that the oil jet that is pointed towards the cam follower on the pump works correctly.
- 2 Before fitment of the new pump ensure that the engine is clean and that a new oil filter has been fitted. It is recommended that flushing oil is used to clean the engine.
- 3 Check the brake booster circuit to make sure that the pipe from the vacuum pump to the booster is intact and there are no issues with the booster, it is possible to suck contamination into the pump via the booster.
